U. OF C. CHAPEL IS DEDICATED TO TOLERANCE

Rockefeller / Million
Given to Aid Work.

In a ceremony of impressive dignity marking that of the edifice itself, the University of Chicago chapel, the gift of John D. Rockefeller, was dedicated yesterday, that religion pure and unfallen may dominate all our lives, even as this structure rises above the hills of learning and bestows on them its beauty and its strength.

During the dedication exercises it was announced that an endowment of $1,000,000 has been established by the Laura Spelman Rockefeller Memorial foundation for the advancement of religion among the students. The announcement was, made by John D. Rockefeller Jr., president of the foundation commemorating his mother. Mr. Rockefeller represented his father at the dedication.

Chapel to Serve All Sects.

In accordance with the desire of the chapel, which is to serve all sects, the motif of religious tolerance re-urned again and again throughout the service. Expressed in half a dozen different veins, it was never more lucid than in the words of the representative of the man who had made the chapel possible, Mr. Rockefeller's will:

"Christ was on earth today, I think there would be but one religion, the basis of that religion would love for God."

Mr. Rockefeller's address embodied explicit confidence in the perpetuity of spirit of religion, a warning of the dangers of skepticism, hope for tolerance in religion, and closed with tribute to both his parents.

Rebuke for the Scoffers.

"There are those who tell us," he declared, "that religion is dying out; that there is no place for it in this modern world. While this may be true of some forms of thought and practice that have been called religious, nothing could be farther from the truth if one is thinking of the religion of Jesus Christ."

"That professor of any university—be it religion what it may—who makes light of such vital religion, who belittles it, who seeks to undermine the students' faith in it, is unfit to be a leader of youth, is faithless to his trust."

"That student who thinks it is a mark of independence, of breadth of mind, of freedom, to scoff at such vital religion, to cut himself adrift from the abiding principles of truth and justice revealed to us in the spirit of Jesus, is only giving evidence of his own limited vision."

The Test of Truth in Religion.

"In applying the test of what is truth in religion, one should be prepared to accept as evidence what one would accept as proof of truth in the physical world. Surely no one who has ever talked over the telephone from New York to London doubts the reality of wireless waves, and yet they have never been seen or touched."

"Why, then, should one be less willing to accept similar evidence of the existence of truth in the spiritual world?"

"In the light of experience and passing years a broader and more tolerant religious spirit has been developing in this land and in others. But while the present generation is not infrequently repelled rather than attracted by religion as it often finds expression in the bewildering variety of churches of today, and while it has an ever lessening interest in what men say about religion, it is vitally interested in Christ himself."

What True Religion Means.

"True religion means an abiding faith in God and our fellow man. May this chapel help all who cross its threshold to lay hold upon so priceless a possession. And may there be centered here a religion of activity and service as well as a religion of contemplation and abiding faith."

"This building has been made possible by one who is known to the world as a builder of industry, a financier, a philanthropist. To his son is known as the most loving, understanding, intelligent father any son ever had."

"The president of the Laura Spelman Rockefeller Memorial I am authorized to tell the university an endowment fund, to be known as the Laura Spelman Rockefeller Memorial fund, to be used to promote the religious ideals of the students of the university through the broadest and most liberal development of the spiritual forces

Heads Out to Sea on Northeast Course

BULLETIN.

Chatham, Mass., Oct. 29. (Monday).—(AP)—The Graf Zeppelin passed out to sea at 6:35 a. m. headed due northeast.

(Chatham is at the easternmost tip of Massachusetts. The dirigible's northeasterly course seemed to indicate that Dr. Eckener had started across the Atlantic on the shorter, or great circle course. With favoring winds the airship was expected to reach Germany in from 50 to 60 hours.)

Crowds of curious visit forsaken house of hermit gold in Park Ridge; home where recuse brothers hid $100,000 is ransacked.

At a signal from Dr. Hugo Eckener, the Zeppelin commander, and an order from Commander Vincent Clark, the sixty picked men holding the rail that surrounded the bottom of the control cabin gave a mighty push upward. The five motors in the forward port and starboard gondolas broke into a roar. The helmsmen on the elevator wheels turned them gently and the great ship nosed up and moved, at first slowly and then, as she gained altitude, more quickly.

counts for a large part. The radio undoubtedly has contributed, due to the use of the a.r. route by political operators. Treasurer James W. Gerard of the Democratic national committee recently estimated the Democrats had spent $600,000 on radio. The Republicans also have spent huge sums.

Dr. Hubert Work, chairman of the Republican national committee, attributes the increase largely to women. John J. Raskob, chairman of the Democratic national committee, says it is "most important to the future well-being of our country to note the increase."

Solid South Has More.

The "solid south," which is experiencing the thrills of a vigorous presidential campaign for the first time in years, has qualified more voters than ever before. Registration in the southern states is different from that which prevails in other sections of the country.

South Carolina, for instance, has a re-registration every ten years. In most of the south, once the voter is registered the registration holds good as long as he pays his poll tax.

Texas, which is being watched closely by both Republicans and Democrats this year, has a registration of 1,500,000, but expects a vote of only 800,000, based on past experience. The poll tax receipts issued in 1924 were 1,195,239.

New Election Code.

In New Mexico, the first real registration in its history has been put into effect this year and the lists are being purged in keeping with the provisions of the new election code.

New York, the home state of the Democratic presidential nominee, which is the scene of an intense battle for the prize of 45 electoral votes, has shown an enormous jump in registration. Both major political parties are claiming the benefit of the increase. The total "upstate" potential vote in the Empire state, which is normally normally 19 per cent over the 1924 figures.

The city of New York, a consistent Democratic stronghold, the registration leaped from 1,500,113 in 1924 to 2,023,654 this year, an increase of more than 34 per cent.

California, the home state of the Republican standard bearer, has also shown a substantial climb. The vote four years ago was 1,281,778 and the 1928 registration is 2,315,816.

Men and Women Vote.

Philadelphia has registered this year 424,044 men and 306,453 women, compared with 338,579 males and 141,743 females in 1924.

Registration by sexes in other large cities:

City	Men	Women
St. Louis	200,760	120,776
St. Paul	81,915	46,000
Baltimore	188,168	129,119
Portland, O.	77,743	67,317
Duluth	26,296	23,244

Chicago has a registration this year of 1,388,631, compared with 1,064,895 four years ago.

The so-called foreign vote will be the largest in history, according to the foreign language information service of New York City, which has completed a survey of 852 publications printed in sixteen languages. The total number estimated is 7,500,000, compared with 6,200,000 in 1920.

Because of the huge registration it is well within the realm of probability that the final result will be late.

Attacks Cermak Record as "Saloon Man."

FRANK O. LOWDEN BACKS GLENN IN SENATORIAL RACE

Frank O. Lowden, former governor of Illinois, has endorsed Otis F. Glenn, Republican nominee for the United States senate. In a letter made public yesterday, Mr. Lowden said:

"I have known well all the United States senators from this state for forty years, most of them intimately. Among them have been able and outstanding men who have exerted great influence in shaping the legislation of the United States.

"I, too, know Otis F. Glenn well. He served in the state senate immediately after my term as governor and at once took a leading place in the state senate.

"He is able, fearless, of high character, and, in my opinion, if elected to the senate of the United States will make a place for himself there second to that of no one of all the senators I have known."

Disapproves Meeting Place.

But Mr. Glenn didn't wait for the actual meeting to answer an implied charge contained in the letter of challenge that he had signed any pledge for the Anti-Saloon league and cited reasons for thinking that the league's endorsement might have been because of Mr. Cormak's wet record.

"Doubtless the Anti-Saloon league is opposed to you," he wrote, "not because I have 'subscribed to all of its tenets' but because as an alderman, a legislator and a lobbyist for a quarter of a century you have been the leading advocate of the saloon forces in Illinois and have stood for:

"First—The saloon.

"Second—Keeping it open on the Sabbath day.

"Third—Against legislation to prohibit saloons within 250 feet of our schools.

"Fourth—Against similar legislation prohibiting saloons within 250 feet of our churches and Sunday schools.

"Fifth—Because you led the fight against woman suffrage, believing that as the political influence of the mothers of our state advanced the political power of the saloonists would decline.

"Sixth—Because you vigorously opposed legislation intended to protect minors from the evils of the saloon.

"Seventh—Because when William Hale Thompson, as mayor, ordered the thousand of saloons of the Chicago ordinance and state statute and close on Sunday, you organized and led a parade of protest through Chicago's streets.

"Eighth—For other equally good and substantial reasons which space prevents enumerating.

REED, HERE FOR SPEECH, BELIEVES SMITH GAINING

Gov. Al Smith has been gaining in the presidential race with "wonderful rapidity" during the last two weeks.

It was declared last night by United States Senator James E. Reed of Missouri, who arrived in Chicago to make campaign speech at the New Hippodrome, Clark street and Lawrence avenue, tomorrow night.

Preparations for an overflow meeting were being made yesterday by Martin J. O'Brien, Democratic county chairman, who held a lengthy conference with Senator Reed at the Atlantic hotel.

"Smith has answered his critics in masterful style," said Senator Reed who is on his way home after two speeches in the last two weeks, one in New York, N. J., and one Saturday night in Pittsburgh. "I believe very few people are really for Hoover. The real battle is not for Hoover but against Smith. The real battle is the battle of Americanism against prejudices, and prejudices exist always in proportion to ignorance."

Washington, D. C., Oct. 28.—(UPI)—Net results of the back and forth across during the last week between Herbert Hoover, his speech and Monday's street-pounding presidential nominees, according to their supporters, are as follows:

The Hoover speech in the Empire city and Monday's street-pounding presidential nominees, according to their supporters, are as follows:

It is conceded on all a water power issue, while

Hoover's denunciatory conduct of campaign has become a matter of concern to the business elements.

Hoover managers not on record believe that it will be a safe candidate in the states of the east. The normally Republican, but swing to Smith this issue as prohibition.

Sp

WEEK'S MOVES FAVOR HOOVER, HIS CHIEFS SAY

Discount Smith Crowds and Norris Defection.

By ARTHUR CRAWFORD,
Chicago Tribune Press Service.
Washington, D. C., Oct. 28.—(Special)—Now results of the movements back and forth across partisan lines during the last week have favored Herbert Hoover, his managers believe. The Hoover speech in New York last Monday strengthened the Republican presidential nominee in the east, according to their view, although temporarily, at least, gave impetus to the activities of the radicals in doubtful agricultural states in the west.

The Republican viewpoint is considerably different from that of the Democrats, who believe that the new insights by reason of developments following the Hoover "state socialism" speech and the tremendous crowds and enthusiasm which have greeted Gov. Al Smith.

G. O. P. Managers Confident.

It is conceded on all sides that the voter issue, which figured in Mr. Hoover's denunciation of "governmental conduct of commercial business" has become a major factor of the final week of the campaign. The Hoover managers not only profess no fear of the outcome of this controversy but believe that it will undo the Democratic candidate in the conservative states of the east. These states are normally Republican, but were to be won to Smith this time on such issues as prohibition.

Already, the Republican managers say, there is evidence of a turning back to the Republican party of some of the business elements which were inclined to support Smith.

No. 1. Hoover Bolt Decides It.

This man has extensive utility as well as other business interests. The deciding factor with him, so he told a Republican leader, was the announcement of support of Smith by Senator Norris (Rep., Neb.), whose chief bugle in an alleged "power trust."

He figured that if Senator Norris was ready to bolt on the theory that the biggest issue in the campaign was around a "power trust" and Smith was the champion of the Norris side of the argument, then it was time for conservative business interests to turn back to Hoover.

According to the Republicans, Hoover's election will be made easier if the attack of Norris and other radicals serves to drive the eastern states back to the party, which they have deserted in the last presidential election. The turning of one or more of the important doubtful eastern states would more than make up for the loss of one or two western agricultural states which may be swayed by Norris and other radicals.

Makes Nebraska More Doubtful.

It is recognized by the Republicans that Senator Norris' speech last night in Omaha for Smith makes Nebraska much more doubtful than it has been considered and that the Norris influence may be felt in Wisconsin, Minnesota, North Dakota, South Dakota, and Montana.

Mr. Hoover, however, has known from the start that he could not count on the aid of the Norris-La Follette

Judge Will Pass Sentence Today on Confessed Killer

Judge Claire C. Edwards of the Lake County Circuit court at Waukegan is to pass sentence today on Claude Clark, colored, who pleaded guilty recently to the murder of William Beck, a farmer of the Millburn neighborhood, last May. Clark was a member of a band of five involved in the killing. Two have been found guilty by a jury and sentenced to death. They are Dominic Bresette, an Indian, and John Brown, a Negro, whose motion for a new trial is to be heard today. The other two, Harold Madden and George Boone, colored, pleaded guilty to manslaughter and have been sentenced to the penitentiary.

Call Pennsylvania Safe.
The enthusiasts, gathered at the Smith meeting at Philadelphia last night, do not disturb them, in so far as the Pennsylvania situation is concerned. The Hoover people have assumed that Smith would pull a large vote in Philadelphia, but Pennsylvania is regarded as about the safest Republican state in the Union.

Immediate interest at Hoover headquarters is in Gov. Smith's meeting tomorrow night in Baltimore. Maryland is a doubtful state. Mr. Hoover will seek to offset the effect of the Smith speech by an appearance at Cumberland, Md., on Thursday evening en route to St. Louis.

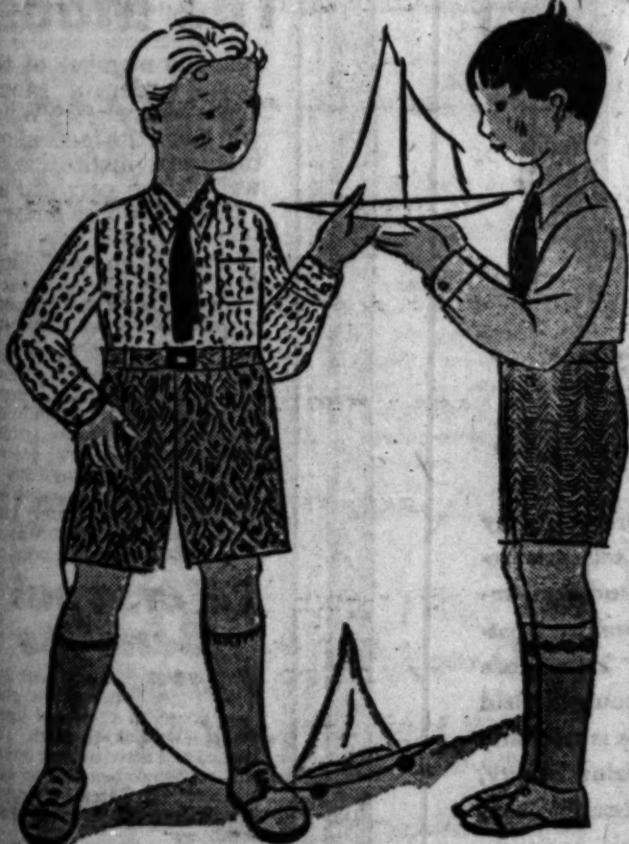

Bandit Trio Fired Upon, but Stages Second Holdup

Three men left a large blue automobile in front of Alex Poncha's soft drink parlor at 2076 North Hoyne avenue last night, seized $4 from the cash register, and fled. A woman patron screamed and Policeman Wislowski while on the Strasburg express fired twice at the bandits as they drove away. Apparently undaunted by this, the trio stopped in another saloon at 3000 Elston avenue a little later and took $50 from the owner.

Celebrate Czechoslovakian Freedom

Czech Republic 10 Years Old; Holds Week of Jubilee

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia, Oct. 28.—(AP)—One hundred cannon thundered forth today from the Prague garrison to announce the tenth birthday of the Czechoslovakian republic which Woodrow Wilson helped bring into the family of nations on Oct. 28, 1918.

A great marble monument to the author of the historic fourteen points facing the main railway station, which also bears Wilson's name, was decorated by the government with fresh wreaths and flags.

Throughout this week of celebrating in the United States and American visitors will come in for particular honors. Czechoslovakians have not forgotten that it was on American soil that the independence of their country was first declared by T. G. Masaryk, now president, who was at that time an exiled professor who found a friendly refuge in America.

All the big financial, commercial and civic institutions throughout the country have contributed and cooperated with citizens to make this week one of the greatest in the history of the young republic. Banking and insurance companies have contributed more than a million crowns for educational, health and cultural purposes.

Other scheduled events that will contribute to the jubilee week include the formal opening of two great bridges over the Moldau river. The imposing Masaryk infirmary for the sick and aged will be formally dedicated and the largest library in Europe will be opened at Prague.

"Perfect Republic," Shaw Says.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia, Oct. 28.—George Bernard Shaw may not be a prophet in his own country, but he stands in a fair way to become the national saint of Czechoslovakia, which he calls a "perfect republic." This is a result of his letter to his friend Carl Kapek, Czech dramatist, published in the newspapers today in connection with the celebrations on the tenth anniversary of the country's birth.

"It is very hard to interfere in any national question without doing the cause I sympathize with more harm than good," Mr. Shaw writes. "But I want to say that if I had to choose between being a Czech under Magyar rule, or a Magyar under Czech rule, I would be a Magyar every time.

"Hungary has had a very bad record in its treatment of subject races; Czechoslovakia has proved itself the perfect republic, and I wish Italy would take its example to heart in Tyrol. The Czechs shows great enlightenment."

CHICAGOANS CELEBRATE

Czechoslovakians of Chicago yesterday celebrated the tenth anniversary of the founding of the Czechoslovak republic with a parade which ended with a mass meeting at the statue of Karel Havlicek in Douglas park. The Czechoslovak republic was organized on Oct. 28, 1918, with President Thomas G. Masaryk at its head. The headquarters of the Czechoslovak National alliance, located in Chicago, were largely instrumental in financing the campaign for independence.

TRAIL OF SALTIS GETS NO HOTTER AFTER 161 DAYS

One hundred and sixty-one days ago Chicago police took up the trail of Joe Saltis, beer baron, after the United States Supreme court refused to review his sun-toothed conviction, but to date it has admitted that the trail of Joe is little hotter than when the search began. Another agency also seeking Joe with no success is the United States marshal's office, since thirty days ago Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson issued a capias for Joe's immediate arrest for bond forfeiture.

BY OSCAR HEWITT.

Cook county outside of Chicago, which has more voters than any county in the state, is shown to be heavily Republican. However, it is not overwhelming as in the last two preceding national elections. In 1920 Harding carried "the county towns" by 56.121 and Coolidge four years ago by 54.121.

The poll indicates that Hoover is now leading in the outside area by 48.622 on the assumption that the suburbs will poll 170,000 voters Nov. 6 or 7. $2,265,000 is given that total voter next week will be 190,000, total in a conservative estimate. On the same two basis of estimating total vote, Emmerson, Republican candidate for governor, has a lead of 62,084 to 69,388. Judge Swanson's lead is 59,658 to 66,006 for state's attorney. Otis F. Glenn, Republican entry for U. S. senator, is not doing as well. The straws show his lead to be 12,333, 13,461. Cormak is credited by the submitters with building many miles of concrete highways, for which this part of the electorate is grateful. Also the county board grants licenses outside of unincorporated towns.

Vote Total in Doubt.

The reason for two estimates of pluralities, instead of one, is because of the difficulty in making an accurate guess on the number of active voters in the county outside of Chicago. The suburbs have grown much faster in the last 10 or 12 years than has Chicago. Twenty years ago, in 1908, the suburbs polled 25,665 votes for Taft and Bryan, while the city had 40,000 by Coolidge, Davis, and La Follette, they put 161,941 ballots in the boxes. The country towns have a total registration 279,000, and should vote 250,000 next week.

It is certain that 190,000 votes will be cast next week and it is probable that the number will be above 240,000. The following table shows the number presidential elections Cicero registered for the Republican candidates. The country towns as a whole are normally very strongly Republican. Coolidge carried them last time at a ratio of 43 to 1. Harding in 1920 was a 5 to 1 winner, and Hughes in 1916 won at a rate of 2 to 1. In 1912 Roosevelt won the high rate by more than 5 to 1. In 1908 Taft carried them 2 to 1, and in 1904 Roosevelt was winner by 4 to 1. The straw vote of THE TRIBUNE indicates that they are back this year on a basis of nearly 2 to 1.

A comparison of the "country towns" vote with that of Illinois over a series of presidential elections [which will be omitted here] tends to verify the previously printed forecast that Hoover's plurality in the state as a whole will be considerably less than that given either Coolidge or Harding. In fact, taking the country towns as a "key" to the state, Hoover's Illinois plurality will be somewhat less than the 497,000 previously estimated.

Eight Polls in Cicero.

Below is presented the straws collected for presidential and state's attorney in most of the suburban territory canvassed. So strong have been the Democratic claims that they will carry Cicero this time that THE TRIBUNE made eight separate polls of that town and only two of them were returned in favor of Smith, but it is perhaps a just criticism of the Cicero poll that too many employees of the Western Electric company were represented. Recanvases were made of several suburbs, Glencoe in particular, in order to ascertain, if possible, the accurate trend of political leanings. The straws collected among commuters are shown as follows:

Suburb	Per cent.	Per cent.	Per cent.	Per cent.
Riverside	121	62	56	59
Berwyn	125	61	48	50
LaGrange	120	41	153	24
Glencoe	621	608	397	309
Maywood	87	62	75	54
River Forest	77	48	50	36
Melrose Park	37	65	54	45
Oak Park	126	60	185	51
Park Ridge	106	35	56	34

As a cross on both Chicago suburbs and down state poll, a canvas was made of Glenn Ellyn, Elmhurst and Lombard in Du Page county. These three western suburbs show 462 straws for Hoover to 145 for Smith. In the gubernatorial contest, Emmerson got 437 straws and Thompson 194; and for United States senator, Glenn received 288 straws and Cormak 101.

SKETCH LIVES AND ACTIVITIES OF EMMERSON AND THOMPSON

F. E. Thompson, Democratic candidate for governor, was born on a farm near Rock Island, Ill., on October 21, 1875. He was educated in the public schools at the time of the revolution, and in 1895 he moved to Illinois and became a farmer in a village now known as Marion.

Mr. Thompson became widely known as a member of the Illinois Supreme Court, to which he was elected in 1919 when he was only 31 years old, the youngest man ever elected to that court. He was elected in a Republican district and was reelected in 1922. He held the position until he died last summer to enter actively in this campaign.

Admitted to Bar in 1911.

Feng Thompson worked with his father on the farm until he was graduated from the Rockhouse High School in 1907. During the summer of 1906 he began to read law and he entered his private study in this field in 1911 when he was admitted to the bar. During this period he taught school and edited the East Marion school.

A year after he began the practice of his profession, in 1912, he was elected state attorney of Rock Island County, the first Democrat elected to that office. Four years later he was elected by a large majority, the only one ever reelected to any office.

The chief maneuver of his Republican opponents against Thompson in his campaign has been an attack on record as state attorney, an attack repeated over and over again and recently brought emphatic replies from several conclusive sources. One was a letter from Newton D. Baker, former secretary of war, who, in view of charges that Thompson tried to run wild near the Rock Island arsenal during the war, he was reelected to the office for a full nine year term his minority in the Fourth district was 11,246 although the same fourteen counties had been carried for Harding by 49,566 only seven months before. He carried his home county of Rock Island by 4,683, although it went for Harding by 16,700. In 1922, although only 34 years old, he became chief justice of the Supreme court.

Prud' of Court Record.

He is known to his associates on the bench as a hard worker and is proud of the fact that in his nine years of service no case assigned to him has been postponed to the next term of court without an opinion being written. He wrote opinions in 642 cases.

Mr. Thompson has served as president of the board of the Rock Island County fair, his country club and civic organizations. He is a member of the Elks, Odd Fellows, Eagles, Knights of Pythias, Moose, Modern Woodmen and Mystic Workmen. He is active in the work of the Sons of the American Revolution and the Sons of Veterans.

He is a member of the American Institute of Criminology and Criminology, a charter member of the American Law Institute, and one of the twelve advisers in the preparation of a uniform code for criminal procedure.

In 1918 Mr. Thompson married Miss Irene Condit Worcester of Rock Island. They have one daughter, Mary Ellen, who attends public school.

wrote that the present candidate "cooperated in a highly intelligent and efficient way" with the federal government and that he admired Thompson's "high character and vigor."

Jury Calls Charge Unfounded.

Another reply came from thirteen of the sixteen surviving members of the Rock Island grand jury of 1914, to whose report asking the appointment of a special prosecutor the Republicans had called attention repeatedly. The foreman and the twelve members issued a statement criticizing the attack as unfounded and saying that their action had been taken as the result of misrepresentations by Republican officials whose actions Thompson was investigating.

A third reply came from three of the three members of a local exemption board of Rock Island saying that Thompson never claimed exemption though legally entitled to, and that it was at the urgent request of the board that he continued his office as state attorney.

When Thompson was reelected to the state Supreme court in 1922 for a full nine year term his minority in the Fourth district was 11,246 although the same fourteen counties had been carried for Harding by 49,566 only seven months before. He carried his home county of Rock Island by 4,683, although it went for Harding by 16,700. In 1922, although only 34 years old, he became chief justice of the Supreme court.

Family Long in State.

The candidate comes from pioneer Illinois stock, his family having lived in the state for more than a century. On his father's side the stock was English and on his mother's side contained a strain of French and Swiss. His grandfather, Allan Emmerson, was territorial judge of Edwards county and served in the state legislature from 1858 to 1862. The secretary's father, John Emmerson, was elected sheriff of Edwards county.

When Emmerson was 16 years old he became a clerk in an Albion hardware store, but four years later moved to Mount Vernon, and with a partner opened a dry goods store. At that time he married Ann Matthews of Grayville, Ill. There are two daughters, Mrs. Harold G. Watson and Mrs. Harry E. Ward, and there are three grandchildren.

Mr. Emmerson began his political career as a precinct committeeman in Jefferson county, rose to its chairman and later was elected a member of the state central committee. He served part of a term as a member of the state board of equalization and during the Deneen administration he was a member of the southern Illinois prison commission.

Elected with Lowden.

The first time he sought major office was in 1916, when he won the nomination for secretary of state and was elected on the same ticket with

Louis L. Emmerson, Republican nominee for governor, a native of that part of Illinois known as Egypt. He was born in the village of Albion on Dec. 27, 1883, so he will be 35 years old at the time of the next inauguration.

Mr. Emmerson has been active in politics ever since his young manhood. He now is secretary of state and has held that office for twelve years, having been elected to it three times by increasing pluralities.

But he also has been engaged in business for many years. In 1901 he organized the Third National Bank of Mount Vernon, the city now his home, becoming first its cashier and then its president, a position that he still holds. He also has other business connections.

Spokesman for Lowden.

Emmerson also was materially helped by his espousal of the Lowden cause in the primary, following which he was the Lowden spokesman in the pre-convention maneuvering at Kansas City.

In 1924 he was one of several aspirants who wanted to run against Small, but a conference of representatives of a number of these possible candidates eliminated him and made Thurston G. Easton the anti-Small candidate. Mr. Emmerson took no active part in the gubernatorial battle that followed.

Long before last spring's primary he was recognized as a probable entry in the gubernatorial race, and although Attorney General Carlstrom was out first with an announcement of his own entry into the race, Secretary Emmerson followed with his own declaration and began an active campaign.

Carlstrom Leaves Race.

Following a split in the anti-Small fight, both Emmerson and Carlstrom made efforts to persuade or force the other to withdraw. It was Carlstrom who finally surrendered and became a candidate again for the office he now holds.

At the ensuing campaign opened Emmerson as well as Small sought the support of the Thompson-Crowe organization in Cook county and when Mayor Thompson made his bargain with Small and then the Thompsons to the governor the Deneen group naturally got behind Emmerson. Stratton, who had announced himself a candidate secretary of state and resigned from Gov. Small's cabinet.

REPUBLICANS JOIN IN VOTE PLEA TO ELECT BUNDESEN

Urge Support Regardless of Party.

A number of nationally known Republicans joined yesterday in a plea for a Democrat, Dr. Herman F. Bundesen, candidate for coroner.

A committee of citizens, members of both parties, and led by William Wrigley Jr. and Julius Rosenwald, both Republicans, issued a booklet telling of the record of Dr. Bundesen in public office and urging all voters, regardless of party, to vote for Dr. Bundesen.

Though for six years Chicago health commissioner Dr. Bundesen is not in the political arena, it is pointed out. He was drafted by the Democratic party as its candidate. He has spent his life in public health activities, the booklet states, and he has never engaged in the game of politics as it is played by the old school politicians.

Fear Race Overshadowed.

For this reason the committee fears voters may not be fully aware of Dr. Bundesen's candidacy and that it may be submerged in the more prominent battles of the coming election.

Dr. Bundesen is opposed by Coroner Oscar Wolff, who has at different times belonged to the various factions of the Republican party, his latest resting place being the Small Thompson-Grove-Eller group.

The members of the committee publishing the booklet sending it to the thousands of voters in the county are, in addition to Mr. Wrigley, Mr. Rosenwald, the following:

JOSEPH H. NOEL, president of the Noel Trust and Savings bank, a Republican.

DR. FRANK BILLINGS, physician, a Republican.

A. A. BREAGUR, a Democratic leader and commissioner of public works under Mayor Dever.

DR. LOUIS L. MARTIN, rabbi, Chicago Hebrew congregation.

GEORGE M. SKINNER, vice president, Wilson Brothers.

JACOB M. LOEB, former president, Chicago board of education.

DR. HENRY BUCKLEY, president Buckley, Dever, Co.

DR. LOUIS E. SCHNEIDER, physician, L. B. French and Mortgagor company.

E. F. MEYER, retired capitalist.

ERNEST ROSENWALD, lawyer.

ERNEST KRUEGER, president, H. Z. Krueger company.

HENRICKSEN, president, Ben Pfisterer company.

The citizens of Cook county will feel the influence of their coroner long after national politics are forgotten," the committee says. "It is important that the coroner's office shall be administered efficiently, honestly and im-

Will County Plans Roads on Cook Model; Bond Issue Up

BY PUTNEY HAIGHT.

Will county, Chicago's adjoining neighbor on the south, has decided to follow Cook county's policy in the matter of getting better highways in addition to what the state's bond issue system affords. Joliet is the county seat, and the county has a population of 110,000.

After much deliberation the officials of Will county concluded that its area would be better served with additional feeder roads and new secondary highways than by the widening of the state roads now existing, as a county enterprise. It was considered that the state, within the period of the next administration, will widen the radial arterials passing through Will county as a proper state function, and as soon as that work is finished the necessity for more and better feeder roads will be immediate.

A bond issue of $1,750,000 therefore has been proposed and will be voted on in that county a week from Tuesday. County officials predict that this will be easily carried by the majority.

It will finance construction of 58 miles of secondary roads of a 150 mile system approved last March by popular vote. This system will be paved with 20 feet of concrete, but grades will be built 40 feet in width to provide for future widening.

One of the principal items in the paving program is the building of a belt line around Joliet. Robert Kinney, general manager of the Chicago partially. That it should be completely separate from any political influence is vital.

"On account of its duties being of a highly medical nature, it should be directed by a capable, trained physician. Dr. Herman N. Bundesen's special training, covering many years of actual experience, makes him especially well fitted for the office of coroner."

One of the members of the committee, Dr. Schmidt, pointed out yesterday an incident which he declared emphasized the fact that Dr. Bundesen is not a politician.

"I met a friend of mine and we fell to discussing Dr. Bundesen," said Dr. Schmidt. "He said to me, 'You are a doctor, I have never before split my ticket in a national election. But this time I'm going to. I've always voted the straight Democratic ticket, but this time I'll vote for a Republican Bundesen.' He was surprised when I told him he needn't scratch his ticket—that Dr. Bundesen was a Democrat."

Infant Death Rate Reduced.

Among the outstanding accomplishments of Dr. Bundesen, as cited in the booklet, is his work as commissioner of health in reducing the baby death rate in Chicago. It is pointed out that when Dr. Bundesen took office in 1921, the baby death rate was

Mr. Mellon, president of the United States, shall have the power to carry his policies into effect."

Confidence of the Democrats in overrunning the present Republican majority in the house was shown in a statement by Representative Oldfield [Dem., Ark.], chairman of the Democratic congressional campaign committee. He predicted Democratic control of the house by a majority of not less than 20 and possibly by as much as 50.

"The Democratic gains, according to Mr. Oldfield, will be in every section of the country. Election of Democrats in 28 present Republican districts is necessary to give the party control."

ANDOLPH 7000
DEMOCRAT BLOW
AT QUAKER VIEWS

Friends Hoover Church's War Record.

Republican western headquarters in Chicago yesterday attacked the corresponding branch of the Democratic national management, the Democratic regional headquarters at St. Louis, charging it with injecting the subject of the Quaker church into the campaign as a part of the religious issue.

William MacChesney, director of Hoover organization work, sent photostatic copies of a handbill bearing the imprint of the Democratic St. Louis office, and with it a statement defending the attitude toward war taken by the Quaker church, of which Herbert Hoover is a member.

Dodger Charges Pacifism.
 The Dodger purported to be a reprint of an article from the Paris Mercury and alleged that the Quakers are opposed to all war, that they refused to fight under Washington, that they were pacifists obstructing the world war, and that during the war they refused to ride railroad tickets because they condoned the fare tax a contribution to the war.

"This is the first time that a political organization in this or any other country," said the MacChesney statement, "has officially and definitely sought to inflame the American people against the religious intolerance.

The record at every point, both in the orthodox Quaker church to which Mr. Hoover belongs, and the record of his own family, is a refutation of these charges. Three members of Mr.

Hoover's family fought in the revolutionary war and a score of them in the civil war. Mr. Hoover himself occupied the highest of positions in the conduct of the world war as a member of President Wilson's cabinet.

"He organized the provision and inspection of food for the American army at the front."

"The Quakers participated in every branch of the military and naval service during the late war and upheld the government throughout that time."

Issue Political, Gray Says.

As proof of the part members of Mr. Hoover's church played in the war he cited that Haverford College, the largest Quaker college in the country, gave 168 of its students as officers and as many more as enlisted men, and that they served in many types of combat units. Earlham College another Quaker institution, he said, had 178 students and alumni in service.

Mr. MacChesney also cited Quaker statements issued during the war in support of the government.

"These facts," continued the statement, "are sufficient to refute the slanderous statements now being put into circulation in some communities that Quakers would not bear arms and defend their country and were wholly lost to every sense of patriotism."

He also quoted from Mr. Gray's acceptance speech that part advocating military preparedness for defense.

Issue Political, Gray Says.

The subject of the religious issue was discussed from the pulpit of the Moody Bible Institute by Dr. James M. Gray, who said that Protestants oppose Roman Catholicism on political and not religious grounds, adding that although on religious grounds Unitarianism is considered more objectionable than Catholicism by some Protestants, President Taft, a Unitarian, said without mention of religion in the campaign.

"There is no occasion for any whispering campaign," he said, "because as the popes have not hesitated to speak out there is no reason why Protestant Christianity should hesitate to do so. Only one-fifth of the population of the United States is Roman Catholic, but, nevertheless, papal sovereignty, according to Roman Catholic authorities, includes the civil as well as the ecclesiastical domain of the whole country."

The religious issue also was treated in a sermon by Rabbi Max Kadushin.

of the Humboldt Boulevard temple on Friday, which he transmitted to Tug-Tamms yesterday. In it the Chicago man expressed regret that Rabbi Stephen S. Wise of New York City spoke for Gov. Alfred E. Smith on grounds of religious tolerance last week. His argument was that the Jews should keep clear of the present situation and that Dr. Wise had aggravated it.

"In this election," he said, "church conventions and ministers' organizations have openly placed their weight against a candidate who is not a Protestant because he is not a Protestant. The result is that the religious issue has obscured the real political issues—farm relief, immigration, government control of utilities, tariff, and foreign policy."

DIES ON WAY TO CHURCH.

On his way to church services yesterday, Peter McVeigh, 70 years old, 1902 Bertrand Avenue, collapsed at Sunnyside and Glencoe avenues, and died of a heart disease before his retirement. Mr. McVeigh was superintendent of construction for the Chicago Surface Lines.

MORE CHARGES FLY IN STATE'S ATTORNEY FIGHT

Swansonite Replies to Lindsay on Bombing.

Candidates for state's attorney, Judge John A. Swanson, Republican, and Judge William J. Lindsay, Democrat, and their supporters, engaged in a further exchange of attacks yesterday.

Albert R. Brunner, chairman of the Swanson Business Men's organization, issued a statement concerning the bombing on Saturday night of a garage in the rear of Judge Lindsay's apartment.

Reviewing the bombing of Swanson's home and the attorney's case, Crowe that Deneen partisans were responsible for the outrage. Brunner said that Lindsay's comment, "I am not surprised," in reference to the bombing of the garage, is as significant in its way as was State's Attorney Crowe's callous comment concerning the Swanson bombing.

Crowe's Comment Recalled.

"If Lindsay is 'not surprised,' the Brunner statement continued, 'neither are we.' . . . The Lindsay apartment has not been occupied by the 'law enforcement candidate' self-styled—for several weeks at least, it now appears.

"It will be recalled that upon the occasion of the Swanson bombing State's Attorney Crowe was able to say within twenty minutes of the explosion that 'the pinhead was planted' by Swanson's own supporters and to give a glibly ridiculous list of reasons for the public accepting this theory.

On Saturday Senator Deneen was informed through a county official that the Crowe-Lindsay bipartisan crew were preparing a crack-brained coup, intended to be touched off about Wednesday of next week—the purpose of which will be to 'prove' the purported affidavits and statements of gangsters that Crowe was correct in attributing the Swanson bombing to Swanson's own supporters.

Charges Gangsters Hired.

A brother-in-law of the late Big Tim Murphy and three supposed St. Louis gangsters—it was reported to Senator Deneen through this county official—were to be employed in springtime to carry out the coup of the Crowe-Lindsay crew. And for some days past the press agent for 'Law Enforcement' Lindsay, provided and paid for by the sanitary district ring, had been telling newspapermen of a mysterious plan which will blow Swanson out of the water.

"Lindsay's ridiculous charges that Judge Swanson is in a deal with Dingley Oberla and Joe Salts have fallen flat, he now realizes, for the same reason that Crowe's crazy charges of last March proved a nonentity. Now Lindsay claims he is not surprised some one set off a bomb in the back alley of a building in which he is one of the tenants and that he will not be surprised if more bombs are exploded.

"In the light of the information concerning the contemplated coup which the Crowe-Lindsay alliance is now cooking up, according to Senator Deneen, it is evident that the Swanson Business Men's association will not be surprised either at any narrow escape the Democratic candidate for state's attorney reports he has had from now until election day."

POLITICAL NOTES

Everett C. Brown, president of the Stock Yards Hoover club, predicts that it will have 4,000 members by election day.

Mrs. Clara Paul Page of Hull house, although a dry, has declared herself for Gov. Alfred E. Smith.

The Chicago German-American Al Smith club gave a breakfast for Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig at the Hotel Sherman yesterday morning. The two ball players were on their way to Milwaukee.

The South Side Federation of Improvement associations has endorsed the four Democratic nominees for the sanitary district.

Vice President Charles G. Dawes has endorsed the candidacy of Judge

John A. Swanson for state's attorney. He is an honest man, said Dawes, "and has come to make a determined effort to carry out the mandate of the people of this county to put power behind civic right and maintenance of law and order."

After completing a campaign tour in twenty states from Tennessee to California, former United States Senator James Hamilton Lewis returned yesterday to aid the Democratic ticket with speeches in Cook county during the windup of the campaign.

Addressing a First ward Democratic rally in the 131st Infantry armory, Lewis said that he had observed agricultural discontent in all of the states which he visited—desire for a change which he predicted would be translated into votes for Al Smith.

armory yesterday afternoon, Edward R. Litsinger, candidate for reelection to the board of review, renewed his charge that Thomas D. Nash, his Democratic opponent, is attorney for Al Capone, "vice lord of Cicero and parts of Chicago."

"Tom Nash," Litsinger asserted, "is a product of Third ward politics but with the prosperity that has come to him from his defense of underworld chieftains, he has purchased a mansion in Bellwood."

Senator W. G. Shaw, vice chairman of the Republican county committee, issued a statement attacking the administration of the sanitary district under Democratic control.

JURORS TO HEAR GRANADY MURDER STORY THIS WEEK

State Near End of Case in Eller Aids' Trial.

Witnesses who saw Octavus C. Granady, colored opponent of Boss Morris Eller for committeeman of the Bloody Twentieth ward, shot to death in the street last primary day, April 10, are expected early this week to tell their stories in Judge John M. O'Connor's court, where sixteen Eller henchmen, including the men who are alleged to have killed Granady, are on trial for conspiracy.

The defendants are charged with slandering and kidnaping, and one of the twenty-three counts in the indictment covers the Granady murder. Prosecutors Edwin J. Raber, David D. Stansbury, and George F. Callahan say they will produce testimony to show that at least three of the defendants were in the automobile from which Granady was shot.

Expect About 25 More.

In his opening statement Prosecutor Raber told the jury that about seven ty-five witnesses would pass before them on the witness stand. About two-thirds of them have testified in the two weeks the trial has been on.

It is expected the prosecution may finish with their task, and in that event the jury also will hear testimony concerning a speech made by Boss Eller to his gangsters and workers on the evening of April 9.

In this speech Eller is alleged to have told his "boys" that they need have no fear.

Eller's Alleged Instructions.

"I want you to go out and deliver," Eller is alleged to have told his henchmen. "We've got to win this election for the Americans. First ticket at all costs. Let nobody stand in your way. If anybody does get in your way, push him out."

"If you need guns you can get them at the home of Johnny Armando (one of the defendants). Remember don't shoot. You've got the governor with you; the state's attorney with you; the sheriff with you, and if you need him you've got a judge."

By the latter statement, the prosecution charges, Eller meant his son, Superior Judge Emanuel Eller. Eller and his son both were indicted with their gangsters, but took a change of venue from Judge O'Connor's court on the grounds he was prejudiced against them.

AL SMITH GOES INTO SECLUSION AT RASKOB HOME

Police on Guard as He Pens Baltimore Speech.

By JAMES O'DONNELL BENNETT.
(Chicago Tribune Press Service)
Wilmington, Del., Oct. 28.—[Special]
—Al Smith returned yesterday, a man which causes me no poignant grief in view of the meevy ground
the minister has given the scriveners of his train since Wednesday.

Al himself, is tuckered physically, but breezy and busy in the bean. He is in seclusion at the county seat, near Wilmington, Del., of his old friend, John Raskob, chairman of the Democratic national committee.

The a noble estate called Archmere,
a 16 Italian villas of white marble
the governor is working with Judges and Shining of New York city on a speech he will make in Delaware tomorrow night. He is working in peace, for 15 Delaware counties are patrolling the grounds of country and town chairmen of the Democratic campaign committee on suggestions, a volunteer body of well men for whom Al has about the same enthusiasm that other men have for the tax gatherer.

Suspense Rest for Day.

Meanwhile the 40 scriveners are perched in this amiable town of Wilmington five miles from Archmere.
The governor suggested the parting saying to me:

"Suffice' Mike; it seems as if I ought to be allowed to crawl under the lounge once in a while."

Despite the rallying to Smith of the Republican barons of feudal Delaware, Pierre S. du Pont and John Raskob, Smith has no reason to cheer-up on his chance of winning the three electoral votes of Delaware.
Isabel Marvel, whose family has settled into the Du Pont family, is a member of finance in Delaware for the Democratic national committee.

He is one of the few party wheel men with no passion for fooling himself about prospects. And he says:
"The Democrats of Delaware have a bright future on their hands and they are making it. We may have only a few weeks to go."

NORRIS SUPPORT OF AL LEAVES 4 STATES IN DOUBT

Smith Appears to Have Edge in Nebraska.

By ARTHUR EVANS.

Sioux City, Ia., Oct. 28.—[Special]
—What effect the split of the United States senate insurgents will have upon the doubtful states in the northwest was the great topic here today.
Smith leaders maintained the bolt of Senator George Norris of Nebraska into the Smith camp and his speech making for the Democratic nominee will tend to offset somewhat the platform work that has been done for Hoover by Senator Smith W. Brookhart and Senator William E. Borah of Idaho among the upper Mississippi valley farmers.

Borah has been the kingpin of the Hoover speakers on the topic of farm relief. At Kansas City it was he who presented the chief argument against the equalization fee and the minority farm plank, and on the stump he has been the great exponent of the Republican attitude on the agricultural problem all through the corn and wheat belt. The Democratic view is that Norris will serve to neutralize Borah in doubtful states like Nebraska and the Dakotas.

Play Up Extra Term Plage.

The Republican view is that Norris will be in the air Saturday night has been discounted by early advertising and that Hoover's pledge for a special session of congress on farm relief and tariff if the December session produces nothing will prove a great factor with the farm vote in the closing days.

In northwest Iowa, which has a fondness for insurancy, Smith has been displaying much strength in the rural vote. Republican scouts report that agricultural discontent shows signs of rapid diminishment. But nobody is taking any chances and this week will find some of the platform heavies battling in Iowa. Hoover leaders here are saying they will be satisfied if rockribbed Iowa goes Republican this time by anywhere between 50, 000 and 150,000.

In the doubtful states stretching from Milwaukee to Butte, Mont., Smith's best chances appear to be in the mountains of Montana, with states too close to call. In the state of Wyoming, the balance between Smith and Hoover, to the bafflement of the politicians, Smith apparently still has the edge in both states, but the closing eight days will decide. Smith's next best states are North Dakota and Montana, both of which are in great doubt. Minnesota seems heading to Hoover and so does South Dakota.

Gov. Maddock accepted the Democratic nomination for the governorship of North Dakota, and in the same state ticket and a Republican national ticket, and the party organization, dominated by leaguers, refusing an indorsement of Hoover and at the same time criticizing the two Republican Nonpartisan league senators for backing Hoover.

So affairs are even more mixed than usual in North Dakota, what with the two senators supporting a Democratic ticket.

In recent weeks Hoover has gained in North Dakota, but the state is in complicated doubt.

Won by Minority Vote.

Nebraska, the two Dakotas and Montana are four states which the edge carried four years ago by a minority of the full vote—that is, his vote was less than the combined total cast for La Follette and Davis. So was Missouri, where the problem is whether the Smith vote in St. Louis will outweigh the Hoover vote outstate, or vice versa. Smith is relying on the wet German Republican vote and Hoover on the dry rural Democratic vote.

Over in South Dakota, Republican leaders who were gloomy in September are now claiming that the state will go to Hoover by 20,000 to 30,000.

In the wheat country where crops have been not so good and prices have fallen, a large protest vote is threatened against the Republican ticket.

The Black Hills country is pro-Hoover.

opera house, will be one of unrivaled splendor.

Gowns and wraps in the new splendor and their smart accessories will be shown for three afternoons, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, from three to three thirty on the Sixth Floor.

The ravishing wrap, pictured,
by Phillippe et Gaston, of imported velvet and sable, expresses this new splendor superlatively. Following classic lines in front, the back receives its full share of elaboration, with a long trainlike panel of the velvet richly bordered in the sable. It is one of the wraps to be shown.

THE SANITARY DISTRICT BOARD.

Four trustees are to be elected to the sanitary district on Nov. 6. Three regular vacancies are to be filled and a fourth trustee is to be elected to fill the vacancy caused by the death of George Porter.

The sanitary board is made up of nine members. Five of them hold over and of the five three are members of the Thompson-Crowe-Gaipin machine. It follows that the election of only two more men from this faction will give control of the board, its expenditures, and its patronage.

Control of the sanitary district is perhaps the most formidable political asset in the community. The expenditures of the district are enormous.

Within the next few years contracts will be let for an intercepting sewer on the south side which will cost in all more than $25,000,000. The construction of sewage treatment works will, of course, continue. It is probable that the members of the board to be elected for four years terms in November will vote on appropriations amounting to more than $100,000,000. Last year alone the appropriations by the district exceeded $34,000,000 and the sums are increasing from year to year.

An honest administration of these vast sums is of direct interest to every taxpayer and every tax payer in the community, for the cost of maintaining the district is one of the principal elements in the tax rates.

Incompetence and indifference to public welfare on the part of the trustees can have disastrous results in public health. An incompetent city administration has left Chicago's highways in wretched condition, but poor pavements are not fatal. The same element which controls the city hall threatens to control the sanitary board. The consequences which might flow from handing over the management of the district to the most ruthless and least competent political element in Chicago should be in the mind of every voter. The extra seconds which will be required to choose the better candidates can mean a saving in doctors' bills.

One of the Republican candidates, and only one, is deserving of support. He is Howard W. Elmore, a real estate broker, who was put forward by the Deneen faction. He has never before sought public office. His business record speaks well for his honesty and his industry. He should make a valuable member of the board.

Morris Eller, Oscar Nelson, and Edward F. Moore are the other three Republican candidates. They are all important cogs in the Thompson-Crowe-Gaipin machine. Eller, boss of the Twentieth ward, is at the moment under indictment. The charges are concerned with the murder of Octavius Granady, his rival for the position of ward committeeman last April, with the protection of prostitution and gambling, and with fraudulent voting.

Oscar Nelson is now an alderman and serves Mayor Thompson as his floor leader in the council. Nelson used to be a member of the Democratic party, but was a frequent source of trouble to Mayor Deyer and became a Republican some months ago, in time to be rewarded with a nomination to the sanitary district. Edward F. Moore is another favorite of the mayor. He is serving as deputy commissioner of public works. Eller, Nelson, and Moore should be defeated on the general ground of unfitness and for the special reason that their election would give their faction control of the district. Their defeat will serve to cripple as vicious a political organization as Chicago has ever known.

Three of the Democratic candidates, in addition to Mr. Elmore, the Republican, are deserving of support. Henry Berger, a lawyer of excellent reputation, is at present completing the unexpired term of Michael Rosenberg. Mr. Berger has been a valuable member of the board and his usefulness should increase. James M. Whalen is the present chairman of the board's engineering committee. He is thoroughly familiar with the technical problems which confront the trustees. Ald. Ross Woodhull is serving his sixth consecutive term as alderman of the Seventh ward, although he is a Democrat and the ward is predominantly Republican. He has been one of the most useful members of the city council in recent years. As a public official he has proved his integrity and capacity.

The voters are fortunate in having four candidates worthy of support. The success of Elmore, Whalen, Berger, and Woodhull will strengthen the board and complete the cleanup which the voters began at the April primary.

MR. DEMPSEY WALKS OUT.

No one who has paid any attention to the crime situation in Chicago will think the escape of John Dempsey was an accident. It was an intended delivery and adds another rather picturesque illustration of the workings of the alliance of crime and corrupt politics, of which the community has been getting aplenty of late.

The escape should be thoroughly investigated and the persons upon whom immediate responsibility can be fixed should be prosecuted vigorously and on the square, if that is possible. But more important than any success which may be hoped for in prosecution is the duty of the citizens at the coming election to clean out what remains of the politicians who have maintained the system. Mr. Dempsey has so efficiently illustrated in the last days of the campaign the alliance between crime and corrupt politics had been scotched, but it has plenty of life in it yet. Voters who do not care to have the laws an object of contempt will vote to finish the job so well begun last April.

GOVERNMENT BY THE REV. MR. SHUMAKER.

In the campaign edition of the American Issue, the publication of the Anti-Saloon league, the Rev. Mr. Shumaker, superintendent of the league in Indiana, asks the voters to defeat Judge David A. Myers, candidate for reelection to the state Supreme court. Mr. Shumaker recently surrendered himself to serve a sentence in the state penal farm for contempt of the Supreme court. Gov. Ed Jackson gave him a pardon at the gate. Judge Myers was one of the judges who held that Shumaker should be punished.

The Indiana Anti-Saloon league, with Shumaker at its head, has been the government of Indiana. It has made and has broken public officials. It has dictated to them and has intimidated them. The attorney general, Arthur L. Gilliom, was an exception. He fought the dictation and brought Shumaker before the court on the charges which gave him his penal sentence. The league retaliated by beating Gilliom when he was a candidate for senator.

A majority of the Supreme court judges whom Shumaker had tried to intimidate and coerce declined to obey his orders or tolerate his impudence. But the majority of the politicians, United States senators, legislators, state and county and city officials, did as they were told. Some of them took advantage of the moral prestige their obedience gave them to bring about the public scandals which gave the state a bad name. The combination of moralists and corruptionists frequently works out that way.

Shumaker intends to make the law as he wants it and enforce it as he wants it. When the Supreme court disagreed with him he went after the court. He has given the state a wicked reputation for intolerance, bigotry, and high-handedness. Shumaker, strengthened as he thinks by the intervention of the governor, which kept him off the penal farm and out of the penal garb, believes he can still teach the court who is boss in the state. His point is that the judges shall change the law to suit him or he will change the law.

If the Indiana voters stand for this they will have earned anything they get later. Shumaker will be legislature, governor, and Supreme court. That is his program, and if he can intimidate officials and impose on the voters he'll continue to have his own way.

UGLY AND DANGEROUS.

Another of the new apartment buildings on the Lake Shore drive has been marred by the presence of steel fire escapes zigzagging up the walls. Builders and architects are apparently unmindful of the fact that to the prospective tenant such fire escapes are evidences of excessive economies in construction. They are like cheap bathroom fixtures. It may well be that the builders in this instance economized at no other point, but they have left an unmistakable impression of shoddiness.

The cost of an inclosed fire exit would have added little to the total cost of the building. It would have added much to the appearance of the structure and to its desirability as a place of residence.

The added measure of safety alone should recommend inclosed fire stairs to the conscientious architect and builder. The prospect of climbing down fifteen or twenty flights of exposed steel grating is not a pleasant one at best. Add to that the chance that the stairs will be covered with snow or ice and that a gale will be blowing, and the certainty that those on the stairs will be in the high state of excitement induced by fire, and the probability of serious accident becomes great.

Within a short time the building will probably forbid outside fire escapes. When that day comes every tall building without an inclosed fire stair will be dated beyond all doubt. The zigzag on the wall will say as plainly as a painted sign that the structure is old-fashioned. The slight additional cost of the inclosed stairway is an investment for permanent value. It is astonishing that mortgage bankers have generally overlooked this aspect of the matter.

Editorial of the Day

MR. SMITH'S IMPARTIALITY.

(Barron's Weekly, New York.)

Business men have been asking what course Alfred E. Smith would take in his appointments, as, for instance, to the Supreme court bench, if he were elected President. It is a most important question, because it has always been the Democratic idea that their theories could be carried out if they could get a sympathetic majority on the Supreme court bench, the number of justices not being limited by the constitution of the United States.

There is no fair way of testing Gov. Smith except by scrutiny of his appointments as governor of New York state. Of thirty justices of the New York state Supreme court, twenty-nine are Democrats and one is a Republican. This does not indicate the full court, but those justices who have been appointed by the governors in Smith's four terms and Nathan L. Miller's single term. The one Republican was appointed by Miller, and thirteen of the remainder are Democrats who replaced Republicans in vacancies caused by death or resignation.

Election of judges is provided in the New York constitution, and, in several cases, Smith's appointments have been Democrats who ran for the office of Justice of the Supreme court and were decisively turned down by the voters. It would be difficult to find in the forty-eight states a more flagrant instance of the gerrymandering of the courts of justice. What would not President Smith do to the United States Supreme court if he could get his nominations through the senate?

What is true of the New York Supreme court in the matter of appointments by the governor is true of the other courts. Out of fifty-two judicial appointments to the state court of claims, court of general sessions, county courts, city court of New York, special county judges, surrogates, etc., where the appointment was made by the governor, there are just two Republicans, five in less important posts where politics are not given, and all the rest are Democrats. There may be instances, but so far as is possible to trace a case where the governor has not replaced a Republican by a Democrat unless constitutionally prevented.

This is in a state, moreover, where the Bar association has always maintained, in spite of its political complexion, that a judge who had completed his term should be renominated irrespective of politics. If that is not the Tammany machine working through the governor of the state, what is?

GLENN FAVORS ENFORCEMENT OF 14TH AMENDMENT

Other Midwesterners Reply to Tribune Query.

(Chicago Tribune Free Service) Washington, D. C., Oct. 28.—[Special.]—Latest replies from congressional candidates to THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE'S query relative to impartial enforcement of all constitutional provisions include a number from the midwest west.

Otis F. Glenn, Republican senatorial nominee in Illinois, answered affirmatively. The others, as proposed to all members of congress and new candidates sought their position with respect to impartial enforcement and specifically as applied to the second section of the fourteenth amendment.

"I hold that all provisions of the constitution should be impartially enforced," said Mr. Glenn, "and if elected will support legislation calculated to that end."

Cernak Approves Program.

Previously Mr. Glenn's Democratic opponent, A. J. Cernak, had expressed his approval of enforcement of the amendment.

C. D. Joplin of Murphysboro, Ill., one of the Democratic nominees for representative-at-large in Illinois, also replied:

"I stand for impartial enforcement of all provisions of the constitution," said Mr. Joplin, "and if elected congressman-at-large for the state of Illinois, pledge to support it."

Mr. Joplin is the only, one of the candidates for Illinois representative-at-large so far to respond.

M. C. Walsh, Democratic nominee for representative in the second Illinois district against Representative Morton D. Hull, suggested applying strict enforcement of the eighteenth amendment to the southern states where nullification of the fourteenth and fifteenth amendments relating to Negro suffrage is approved by leading governments.

Make South Dry, He Says.

VANZETTI INNOCENT IN BRIDGEWATER HOLDUP, MAGAZINE DECLARES

New York, Oct. 28.—[Special.]—The Outlook and Independent, in its current issue, publishes what is, in its opinion, an exoneration of Bartolomeo Vanzetti from any part in the Bridgewater holdup, for which he was sentenced to 15 years' in prison and which, it is claimed, led to his conviction and execution with Nicola Sacco for the South Braintree pay roll murders.

Almost the entire issue of the magazine is taken up with affidavits and documents bearing on the independent investigation made by the magazine.

Foremost among the documents is an affidavit by Frank Silva, an ex-convict, who confesses that he and three others, excepted the three men charged with the payroll truck of the White Shoe company on Dec. 2, 1919.

The Outlook charges that Gov. Fuller "had knowledge of the two vital developments after the men were sentenced to death" and before they were executed."

"I hold that all provisions of the constitution should be impartially enforced," said Mr. Glenn, "and if elected will support legislation calculated to that end."

opponent, A. J. Cernak, had expressed his approval of enforcement of the amendment.

"Relative to your inquiry as to the campaign, had not made reply to THE TRIBUNE'S query.

The Idaho senator, who has on various occasions asserted his belief that all provisions of the constitution ought to be enforced, was in the midst of the preparation of his bill when he was asked about the matter.

"I have no reluctance whatever about dealing with the subject," said Senator Borah, "but the question involves a discussion of what can be done under the fourteenth amendment in the light of the fifteenth amendment and I prefer to prepare carefully anything I say about it."

Sen. Borah said he would welcome an opportunity to elaborate his views on the question of the fourteenth and fifteenth amendments after the rush of the campaign is over.

Tennesseeans Raps Tribune.

THE TRIBUNE is taken to task in a reply from a southern member of the house, Representative E. L. Davis [Dem., Tenn.].

"There is no violation whatever of the second section of the fourteenth amendment in Tennessee and I know of none anywhere," said Mr. Davis in a telegram.

"No occasion for such legislation as you suggest. Such agitation can serve no purpose except selfish partisan ends. In THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE are going to cease to wave the bloody shirt."

Other present members of the house replying to THE TRIBUNE'S query include the following:

JAMES G. STRONG (Rep., Kas.)—I certainly do hold that all provisions of the constitution should be impartially enforced, but before advising that I would either introduce or vote for legislation to carry into effect any certain section of the constitution, I would of course want to be advised what the form of the legislation is if it were proper, I would support it.

Favors Enforcement.

C. A. CHRISTOPHERSON (Rep., S. D.)—I firmly believe all provisions of the constitution should be impartially enforced, including the fourteenth amendment.

DON B. COLTON (Rep., Utah)—I believe all provisions of the constitution should be impartially enforced.

New candidates for the house making reply include:

M. D. FITZGERALD (Dem., Mont.).

enforcement of the second section of the fourteenth amendment, if elected, I will favor it and will introduce a bill for the same and also the fifteenth amendment and the Dyer act," said Mr. Walsh. "I would be in favor of enforcing the eighteenth amendment to the limit in the eleven southern states."

Representative A. H. Vesta, Republican independent, is one of the present members of congress whose reply has been received.

"Your telegram of the 17th has come to my attention upon my return from doing campaign work," said Mr. Vesta in a letter from Anderson, Ind.

"I always have stood for the enforcement of the provisions of the constitution and intend to continue to do so."

Eugene A. Clifford, Democratic nominee for representative in the second Wisconsin district, has wired that he favored "impartial enforcement of all provisions of the constitution and would vote to carry into effect the fourteenth amendment."

Borah Delays.

Senator William E. Borah (Rep., Ida.), who again advocates enforcement of the eighteenth amendment to be the leading issue of the present presidential election, has wired his support.

Mr. Joplin is the only, one of the candidates for Illinois representative-at-large so far to respond.

"Outgro" is a harmless antiseptic manufactured for chiropodists. However, anyone can buy from the drug store a tiny bottle containing directions.

I stand squarely behind the constitution. Will not only vote but work for measures to assist in better enforcement, especially second section of the fourteenth amendment.

WILLIAM C. MARTIN (Dem., O.)—I favor the enforcement of the second section of the fourteenth amendment and if elected will vote and use my influence to carry the provisions thereof into effect.

H. F. Lawrence, Democratic nominee in the third Missouri, answered "Yes," both with respect to impartial enforcement of all constitutional provisions and the enactment of legislation to make the second section of the fourteenth amendment effective.

FAIL TO UNEARTH CLEWS TO ALLEN A. PLANT BOMBERS

Kenosha, Wis., Oct. 28.—[Special.]

After a 24 hour search, Kenosha police tonight were without clews to the perpetrators of the bombing of the Allen A. Knitting Mills warehouse and power plant last night. The buildings were damaged $25,000.

When word of the bombing was brought to a local hall where the members of the Kenosha Knitters' Union were having a dancing party last night, a tremendous cheer went up. The Allen A. employees staged a dance in the main building of the plant at the same time. Police declared they believed the bombing of the warehouse was an attempt to intimidate the Allen A. strikebreakers and to "break up" their party.

The strike at the knitting mills has been in progress since last February. There have been 19 bombings during that period.

BY HENRY WALES.

(Chicago Tribune Free Service.) PARIS, Oct. 28.—Published reports from Premier Raymond Poincare indicate the demand for the ratification of the United States and British war debt accord by the French cabinet and parliament will be belied by the premier's speech at Caen today. Dealing with the 1926 financial crisis, M. Poincare explained that he had foreign fiscal aid to save the franc from toppling to less than 2 francs in value because that necessarily accepting the funding arrangement of the war debts.

Dawes Plan Aids Payments.

The experts recommended stabilizing the franc immediately, regardless of the level, and ratifying the agreement which Washington and London signed on our statesmen, engaging the next two years without a transference or guarantees from our debts. "Since then we have met all our foreign obligations.

Regarding the inter-allied debts, a record for the future because we were not sure of being able to make the transfer of payments during the next two years. We are not yet in a position, thus far, of the Dawes plan. We thus have shown that we do not intend to repudiate the debts."

Insists on Just Indemnity.

Regarding the remaining financial conditions, the Dawes plan and connection with the evacuation of Rhineland, the premier said, "We are ready to listen to the proposals of any negotiations concerning claims against Germany we are obliged not to abandon any safety blanket, nor accept any compromise which does not insure us a sense of paying integrally our debts, as well as obtaining just indemnity as reparation."

When Apron Opens Jet

Mr. Frieda Kolandy, 22 years old, was overcome by escaping gas yesterday in the kitchen of her home at 9052 Belmont. An inhaler squad of the fire department, commanded by Capt. James Fleming, revived her. Police believe her apron strings went on a valve and opened a gas accidentally.

U. S. GENEROSITY MADE BASIS FOR BALKAN RACKET

(Chicago Tribune Free Service.) ROMA, Oct. 28.—Uncle Sam's generosity in relaxing immigration quota restrictions in the cases of families of naturalized immigrants who want to join their fathers and husbands in the United States already is being abused and exploited by crafty Europeans in some Balkan and Mediterranean countries.

Immigration restrictions in the cases of families of immigrants already in the United States were modified last May, by a joint resolution of congress, in order not to cause inhumane family separations.

When families seeking to rejoin their relatives in the United States, however, appeal to their governments in Europe for passports, they are charged exorbitant prices for passports by certain government officials.

Cases have become known, where $500 was asked for a passport in a certain Balkan country. This is made possible through members of governmental bureaus securing exclusive rights to select those to whom passports to the United States are to be accorded.

These practices have been brought to the attention of American authorities in the Balkan countries. In order to prevent unfairness and injustice the American authorities adopted the practice of refusing visas unless passports were granted to applicants in alphabetical order.

SMITH SPLITS WET G. O. P. VOTE IN CONNECTICUT

But Leaders Say Hoover
Will Carry State.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.

(Chicago Tribune Free Service.)
New Haven, Conn., Oct. 28.—(Special.)—The Nutmeg state is another region of the wet Republican east that appears to be falling Al Smith in the hour of his need. Connecticut has but seven electoral votes, but they are seven of the 100 votes in seven wet eastern states which it is necessary for the New York governor to carry to be elected.

Connecticut is not, being one of two states that never have ratified the eighteenth amendment; and its cities are on fire with ardor for the wet candidate for President.

An enormous number of wet Republians and Catholic and foreign born women who have not voted recently are going to plump for Al Smith in New Haven, Hartford, Bridgeport, Stamford and other cities. In fact, it looks as if Smith will carry most of the nine cities, but the indications are that his urban vote will be buried beneath an avalanche of Hoover votes in the 100 rural towns.

Liquor Is Plentiful.

Prohibition is a farce in this region. Connecticut is exhibiting a demonstration of the inability of enforcing a law of which a majority of the population disapproves. Liquor is plentiful. Speakeasies abound and many of them are operated as old bars with virtually no concealment. Brewing, fermenting and distilling are thriving industries, particularly in the foreign communities in a state which is 25 per cent foreign born and more than 60 per cent of foreign extraction.

In Connecticut, according to the sophisticated viewpoint, the eighteenth amendment is just another one of those blue laws for the unreasonable regulation of personal habit that it is not sinful to violate. Connecticut is full of scofflaws of one variety or another.

Fertile Field for Al.

In view of its wetness, the large foreign element in its population and its proximity to New York, Connecticut was considered from the beginning of the campaign a fertile field for the wet candidate to cultivate. There are in the state more than 1,000,000 foreign born: Italian, 45,000; Portuguese, 45,000; Irish, 85,000; Russians, 22,000; Germans, 15,000; Austrians, 25,000; French Canadians, and 13,000 Hungarians. In a

CHAMBERLAIN THANKS PRESS FOR LETTING HIM HAVE QUIET VACATION

San Francisco, Cal., Oct. 28.—(AP)—Gratitude to the press and to Californians who gave him opportunity to spend a month's holiday on the Pacific coast in a purely private capacity was expressed by Sir Austen Chamberlain, British foreign minister, who left last night by train for Seattle and Vancouver on his way to sail for London from Quebec.

"I wish to express to the representatives of the press my grateful thanks for the understanding you have given to my quiet vacation," said Sir Austen. "They have respected my wishes to keep my visit purely private with the result that I have enjoyed a perfect holiday in the glorious sunshine, amidst lovely scenery."

"I thus start on my homeward journey with health completely restored and ready to resume the heavy work and great responsibilities which await me on my return to London. I shall end with me the happiest memories of this, my third visit to the United States."

"I pray that our two great nations may continue to live in peace and amity, that they may achieve an ever increasing sympathy with and understanding of each other, and that their friendship thus cemented may serve to promote the peace and prosperity of the world."

With Sir Austen were Lady Chamberlain and their children. While in California they were guests of William H. Crocker.

total population of 1,400,000 more than 400,000 are foreign born and a half million more are the children of immigrants.

New Haven, the largest city, with a population of 180,000, is overwhelmingly of foreign extraction; the Italian stock comprising 65,000 persons, Jews 20,000, and Irish 30,000. It is preponderantly a Catholic city, there being more Catholic churches than all the Protestant churches combined. The Italians are normally 90 per cent Republican, the Irish 45 per cent Republican. The Jews have been Republians almost to a man and the Republican boss of New Haven is a Jew, Col. Isaac Mullman.

The Republicans have suffered great defections in all the population groups of foreign extraction. To the extent that Republicans of foreign extraction are wet or Catholic or both they are solidly for Smith. The defection of Jews to Smith is variously accounted for but one of the most important considerations is said to be the New York governor's stand on the immigration restriction issue.

MORE G. O. P. Disaffection.

Then there is Republican disaffection on other scores. Francis A. Palotti, a Republican Italian-American of outstanding ability, who is serving his third term as a member of state legislature to the lieutenant governorship, which is the recognized stepping stone to the governorship. Republican National Committeeman Henry Roraback, the last old time political boss to hold a state in the hollow of his palm, refuses to Palotti the nomination. That act destroyed the last chance of getting the Italians back on the Republican reservation. Thirty Italian clubs formed to boost Palotti immediately changed their names to Al Smith Italian clubs.

There was also dissatisfaction with Roraback among friends of John Q. Tilson, Republican leader of the house, who represents the New Haven district because Roraback had turned Tilson down for senator two years ago in an effort to keep him from running as a candidate to Tilson's candidacy for the nomination for Vice President at Kansas City.

Tilson May Be Defeated.

Incidentally, the Republican defections in his city may result in the defeat of Tilson for reelection to the Senate by Francis A. Palotti, a Democrat of Albertus Magnus college, a son-in-law of Arthur L. Hadley, president emeritus of Yale university, who has declared for Smith on the prohibition issue.

Despite all of the Republican defection to Smith, however, the Democratic leaders have little hope of carrying a state that has been normally Republican by large pluralities since the days of Cleveland, except in 1912, when the Republicans were divided.

In the rural towns, however, there has been a marked and a greater increased enrollment by drys and Protestants, chiefly women, who have not regularly voted hitherto. The universal testimony among both Republican and Democratic leaders is that religion is the most influential factor in the election.

Bigotry is getting in its work on both sides, according to impartial analysis of the increased enrollment of votes which is 75,000. A large factor of this increase, notable in the first time of large numbers of Catholic women, a factor the importance of which is not to be minimized in a state that is 26 per cent Catholic.

In the rural areas, however, there has been a marked and a greater increased enrollment by drys and Protestants, chiefly women, who have not regularly voted hitherto. The universal testimony among both Republican and Democratic leaders is that religion is the most influential factor in the election.

THRONGS VISIT FORSAKEN HOUSE OF HERMIT GOLD

Home Where Brothers Died $100,000 Ransacked.

A two year old tragedy of the Flynn brothers was unfolded in detail yesterday as curious visitors inspected the deserted farm house on the Northwest highway in Park Ridge where two hermit brothers died in December, 1926. Seventeen relatives are now fighting for shares of the $350,000 estate of the brothers, James and John Flynn.

According to Attorney Walter P. Murphy, representing some of the heirs, nearly $100,000 in currency and coins was found secreted in the house, under carpets, in secret nooks in the walls, and in caches in the floors. Not the house is windows, doors, and interior stripped bare by the treasure hunters. It stands today by the midst of dropping trees and the schoolboy's cross to the other side of the road when pass ing.

Story of the Flynn.

Back in the '70s there were three Flynn boys, James, John and Edward, according to the story told yesterday by pioneer residents of Park Ridge. Sons of a wealthy father, they ran wild and their escapades were the talk of the little village. None of them married and as the years went by they scorned to mix with the others in the neighborhood and kept to themselves in the farm house. With age came eccentricity and also more wealth.

The brothers purchased much land in the vicinity. They owned half of Park Ridge. They lent money on first mortgages, foreclosing when payments were defaulted. In later years they purchased bonds and securities, keeping them in a safety deposit vault, but at the same time they figuratively papered the walls of the farmhouse with currency.

Last of Three Kills Himself.

Edward died in 1920 and the remaining two kept even closer to the old home. Then, one cold December day two years ago, John, 72 years old, succumbed to pneumonia. James, 70 years old, was left alone. He watched a doctor sign a death certificate for his brother, then walked into another room and shot and killed himself.

Three second cousins appeared at the double funeral. As the estate grew larger with each search by the public administrator, more relatives appeared. Today, in the Probate court, seventeen persons are claiming relationship and a share of the money. A decision in the case is expected this week.

Woman Driver Kills Flagman at Crossing

Kenosha, Wis., Oct. 28.—(Special)—Louis Paulsen, 66, flagman at the Sheridan road crossing of the Northwestern railroad here, was killed early today when a speeding automobile crashed through the gates as he was removing the lanterns. The machine failed to stop. Merton Crane of Racine, a truck driver, had stopped at the crossing and saw the car strike Paulsen. He said it bore an Illinois license plate and a woman was driving. The car was seen a few minutes after the accident, police said, and the impression was that the woman at the wheel was intoxicated.

MUSSOLINI BANS ELABORATE FETE FOR FASCIST DAY

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

ROME, Oct. 28.—The seventh year of the Fascist reorganization of Italian economy and politics, and the anniversary of the October march on Rome, was celebrated throughout Italy today in remarkably unostentatious style. The fete was curtailed by the order of Premier Benito Mussolini as a lesson in economy.

Premier Mussolini did not appear in public, but issued one of his Napoleonic proclamations to the people, declaring the coming Fascist year will see enormous new adherence to the Fascist principles and will witness the most important events and gigantic new public works.

In his proclamation Premier Mussolini said 2,302 pieces of public work have been completed since the march on Rome, which Il Duce says made the Italian people free. He also pointed with pride to three other accomplishments—namely, the monetary reform, making the grand council the supreme organ of the state, and the land reclamation laws.

The dictator ended saying, "Let us salute the new Italy by lifting our muskets, and with a cry that makes all our enemies tremble."

ATHEIST THRIVES FREED FROM JAIL IN LITTLE ROCK

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

Little Rock, Ark., Oct. 28.—(Special)—If the removal of Charles Smith, New York atheist, from the city jail to the city hospital was a result of sickness, the illness was on the part of the city administration rather than the atheist. Dr. C. M. Brooks, superintendent of the city hospital, said today that Smith was feeling all right, and the physician's statement was in agreement with that of the patient.

An examination by Dr. G. D. Thompson, physician in charge of Smith, resulted in a report that Smith's pulse and temperature were normal, although there were indications of slight physical disorder due to the "patient's" hunger strike which is now in its twelfth day. Smith was transferred from the city jail to the hospital Saturday afternoon on orders of Mayor Charles E. Moyer.

A majority of persons expressing opinions on the subject today apparently believe that the transfer was made more in an effort by the administration to unload a "white elephant."

The dictator ended saying, "Let us salute the new Italy by lifting our muskets, and with a cry that makes all our enemies tremble."

that because of a belief that Smith's decision demanded medical attention. In spite of the fact that Smith was arraigned and fined on a charge of action likely to incite a riot by distributing "atheist" literature, which was directed against the proposal to make the teaching of evolution unlawful in Arkansas, it appears that but a small percentage of the people in Little Rock sympathize with the position taken by the city authorities. The removal of Smith is openly criti-ized as an infringement upon the right of free speech, and rarely is any one heard to attempt to justify the city administration apprehension that Smith would disturb the peace and jail him to prevent it.

In some quarters it is even charged that Smith's removal to the hospital, where he is permitted all the liberties he desires, is probably due to the fact that the city campaign is on and that the present mayor is a candidate for a third term.

MUSIC'S Greatest Moment

The music that charms the crowded house does not come entirely from within the spot-light's glow. Rising from unnoticed shadows — rising and blending with the singer's voices in a matchless pageantry of sound—is the voice of the Knabe. For the Knabe is the official piano of the Metropolitan Opera Company—chosen, from among all the makes in the world, for the highest house in its instrument can win.

For the same reason that the Knabe was chosen above all others by the Metropolitan, it is the personal choice of the greatest singers, of Ponselle and Martinelli, stars of the Metropolitan's opening production; of Jeritza, Ruffo and a host of others.

Because the Knabe brings a warmth of tone, a mirror of human emotion, such as no other piano has ever offered. It is this quality that you desire in the piano that shares your intimate musical moods—the quality that will touch your playing with the magic of "music's greatest moment."

You need not be satisfied with anything less. You can own a Knabe.

Price from $275 to $3,500. Terms 30% down—3 years to pay the balance. Your present piano takes to exchange.

"Renting it was an easy matter—with Tribune Want Ads"

WHEN Mrs. Peterson wished to rent her son-in-law's apartment she used a Tribune Want Ad at once. She had many replies and a good choice of tenants. "Renting it was an easy matter—renting with Tribune Want Ads is always an easy matter," says Mrs. Peterson.

People who are looking for houses and apartments go to the Tribune first because experience has taught them that in the Tribune they find a list covering almost everything available in Chicago. There are scores more offers . . . 88% more "To Rent" advertising than is carried by all other Chicago newspapers COMBINED.

People with apartments to rent use the Tribune for their advertising because they know its unequalled circulation, its standing as the most frequently consulted Want Ad medium, and its renting ability. Experience has taught them it will rent anything, anytime—it is 100% efficient. Phone—

"I had a three room apartment that I wished to rent for my son-in-law. I put in a Tribune Want Ad and was pleasantly surprised with the number of replies I had. There were many of them and I had no difficulty at all in renting the place immediately. I find that renting with Tribune Want Ads is always an easy matter."

The Diversified Paths of Fashion Lead to Perfection of Chic in Frock and Coats

Heavy Silk and Sheer Chiffon—the Frock

Encircle the chic of the mode in a skirt that ripples with the evenness and flow of fullness mathematically calculated—such is the artistry of Lanvin shown in this frock. The skirt joins the bodice at a low point, merging the heavy silk into the sheer chiffon by skillfully arranged squares of silk. The scarf collar in satin is interesting. For women. $135.

Basket Cloth and Caracul—the Coat

Accent the smart fashion of a coat by their interesting textures. In the graceful lines of a deep shawl collar and cuffs are the soft shadings of beautifully matched skins of caracul. Deep tan and brown tones in the fur blend with soft colors in the woolen. For women. $135.

After three hours of wild and numerous spills, the Holls of Pete Van Kempen and Milt of the six day bicycle race Broadway armory at midnight culmination led the field by one circuit in front of the teams.

The Belgian road team of H. Van and T. Wynsdael led the field with 18 points. Cole were second with 11 points. Wille and Penn third with 10 points. Delyton and Morris had two laps behind the leaders. The race, made up of individual sprints, attracted a crowd of north side armory. The race was extremely fast and the leaders caused many spills.

Wynsdael Starts Fast

Camp Meade Tank Wins 3d Army Grid

Carlisle, Pa., Oct. 28.—A passing attack, result in the first five days, gave the 3d Army Tank Company, the 3d Army, the title of the 3d Army. The final score Ball, who brought the kick off straight down the field for 55 yards, the Bears rallied valiantly. Spurred by the cheers of the crowd, they passed and ran until Detroit finally held them four yards from a tie score.

Detroit Races 21 Yards.

Bill Sens, who replaced Walquist in the fourth quarter, grabbed Detroit's pass for 25 yards. Joe Sterneman lost eight yards, but Paddy passed again to gain 10 to make the score 10-6. A few plays later he passed, round his right receiver covered, and his right end for 21 yards, being dropped on the Detroit 13 yard line.

Sam lost two precious yards trying to get around Detroit's right flank. Paddy plunged for that distance. Then he whirled through the line to catch Stagaman's toss for eight yards. Fourth down, four yards from a tie score and two yards for another first down. White shot into the line, but Howard and Westwood held and Detroit took the ball.

Then came Friedman's final proof of greatness. Two plunges, and on a fake kick Benny passed from the 20 yard line to Munro for a gain of 30 yards. Two more plunges and then another fake kick. Benny's pass to Edsward covered 22 yards. Straight forward carrying the ball on every play, and the final gun sounded with the Wolverines just ten yards from another touchdown. The total advance was 56 yards.

Friedman attempted 28 passes during the game. Seven were completed, one because of interference, and the total gain was 113 yards. Three times Benny couldn't get off the ball and he was thrown behind the scrimmage line.

The Bears tried 11 passes, completing four for 44 yards.

GIANTS TAME YANKS

New York, Oct. 28.—(AP)—The New York Giants, with Bruce Caldwell, for the first time in their history, spot-lighted their intercity professional football rivals, the Yankees, into ignominy today, 10 to 7, before a crowd of 15,000 at the Yankee stadium.

Caldwell scored a touchdown for the Giants in the first quarter and a field goal from the 50 yard line in the third period. McBride, former Syracuse ace, tallied the other point after Caldwell's touchdown.

The Yankees, although showing a strong running attack, built around Gibby Welch, Pittsburgh's 1927 all-American half back, were unable to score until the final period. Welch went over after receiving a pass from the 15 yard line and Kelly booted the extra point.

TOP MAT CARD
AT COLISEUM

Efforts to revive local interest in wrestling will be made tonight by promoter John "Doc" Krone at the Coliseum. The five bouts will be staged.

The main event will bring together George Calza and Mike Romano, who meet for the Italian heavyweight title. Romano is a headlock expert while Calza will rely principally upon the toe and stopper holds. The bout has created interest among the Italians, who have made Romano a slight favorite. They will wrestle to a finish, best two in three falls.

GRIFFITH-DILLON OUT TOPS CARD AT WHITE CITY

Seven Fights Are Set for Tonight.

Tuffy Griffith, the Sioux City, Ia., lightweight, and Harry Dillon of Canada will be the principals in the second bout of Promoter Mike Malloy's second show at White City tonight. They will box ten rounds to a decision and weigh not less than 175 pounds.

Dillon has boxed in Chicago three times. He won easily from Joe Woods and stopped Rôleaux Saugier, the Cuban, who was a sensation a year ago. Harry showed ten rounds to a draw with Jimmy Byrne of Louisville, who was a clean cut decision over Chuck Williams of Indianapolis at the Hippodrome a short time ago.

Tuffy Is Hard Funcher.
Griffith, a half right hander, has not lost a professional fight. He has shown remarkable improvement since he has been fighting in the 175 pound division. As a middleweight he had little trouble to win from Haakon Hansen and Wolcott Langford. Manager Jack O'Keefe has been trying to match Tuffy with Jack Johnson, Joe Louis and others who are seeking to make the world's heavyweight title. Dillon and Griffith completed training yesterday with light gymnasium workouts.

Malloy will try to match the winner of tonight's fight with Tommy Laughran for the world's light heavyweight title. Dillon and Griffith completed training yesterday with light gymnasium workouts.

Seven bouts. Card.

Walter Madson and Jackie Williams, both middleweights, will bring the round semi-windup. Other fights to be set together Joe Thomas and Tommy Maloney, Pete Pape, Iowa's lightning half back, and Fred Hovde, Minnesota's flash, who are tied for second with 36 points. Hovde's 92 yard run against the Hawkeyes and Pape's 55 yard jaunt a few moments later brought the only scores of the Iowa-Minnesota battle.

Bo Cuisinier of Wisconsin scored his team's lone touchdown when the Wolverines failed to take fourth place in the individual scoring with 31 points. Glasgow and McLean of Iowa are tied for fifth with 25 points each.

The leading scorers:

Player	T.D.	P.T.	R.P.
Burke, Illinois	7	0	42
Pape, Iowa	6	0	34
Hovde, Minnesota	6	0	36
Cuisinier, Wisconsin	1	31

STRONG LEADS EAST

New York, Oct. 28.—(UPI)—Ken Strong, ace of New York university's back field, rapidly is distancing his rivals in the race for individual football scoring honors in the east. Scoring three touchdowns and five points after touchdowns against Colgate yesterday, Strong boosted his total for the season to 81.

Gulick of Hobart, holding fifth place a week ago, jumped into the runner-up position with a three touchdown spurge against Clarkson. He has scored 60 points. Langmaid of Williams failed to add to his total against Columbia, and dropped back to third place with 56 points.

The ten leading scorers follow:

Player	T.D.	P.T.	R.P.
Strong, N. Y. U.	12	19	61
Gulick, Hobart	10	0	60
Landau, Williams	8	8	54
Strong, C. M. U.	6	0	48
Masters, Dartmouth	8	1	49
Brodrigue, W. Va. Wes.	7	7	40
Harpster, Temple	2	0	35
Harpster, Carnegie Tech	2	0	35
Freese, Tufts	7	1	43
Freese, Geneva	7	0	42

DE LA SALLE OF CHICAGO BEATS JOLIET PREPS

Joliet, Ill., Oct. 28.—(Special)—De La Salle of Chicago went into first place in the south division of the Chicago Catholic High School Football league by defeating De La Salle of Joliet, 19 to 0, here today. The line plunges of Furlong, Boland, and Morris carried the Chicagoans to victory.

Boland made a touchdown in the first quarter and Furlong crashed through for two in the third period.

WHALEN BOOSTERS WIN AGAIN

The Whalen Boys continued their winning streak yesterday when they beat the South Chicago Tigers, 25 to 0.

Six other fights complete the card.

Bob's Dog Hits Cockle Burrs; Wags His Tail

BY BOB BECKER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
Upper Illinois River, Oct. 28.—Jack, our springer spaniel, went through a cockle burr barrage this morning to show us that he is going to be a real cracken when the pheasant season opens Nov. 10.

Until this morning the dog had been called up for assistance retrieving work and practice hunting in many meadows. So we decided to put him in the meanest, toughest cockle burr and weed growth that we could find to see if he would do what every good springer is supposed to do—face any cover and hunt it on command.

There is a small pond down here in the lowlands. It is surrounded by a few willows and wild sunflowers six feet high, and is filled with pesky "stickers" which cling to your clothing in clusters. Stretching away from this pond is a field studded with cockle burrs. Anyone not wearing a tin suit would hate to tackle it.

We ordered Jack to work this field. In two minutes his ears were balls of burrs and he was covered from head to foot with these nuisances. But the dog kept hunting, watching us for hand signals to tell him which way he should go.

Little did we think that he would find game, but he did. When his tail (so filled with burrs that it looked like a pig's cushion) began to wag about 120 beats to the minute we knew he had struck game. Hustling up to within fifteen feet of him, we saw a big cock pheasant trying to run from the dog.

But like a real springer spaniel, Jack didn't let this smart old cock get away. The dog rushed the pheasant and captured it.

Haines Fights Myers on Amateur Card tomorrow

Alertness of Goal Keeper Ternovits enabled the Thistles to hold the Empire to a 1-1 tie in a Midwest league soccer upset at Illinois stadium. Ternovits made several brilliant saves, his stop of a shot from MacLean being especially spectacular.

The Bricklayers were favored to win, but were thwarted in their few scoring attempts.

In the other Midwest league game, Illinois whipped the Vienna club, 3 to 1, at Kilpatrick avenue and 19th street. Spangler scored the first goal, 10 to 1, at 22d street and Kostner an avenue in an exhibition romp.

WOMEN

You Who THINK for Yourselves VOTE for YOURSELVES Elect ALFRED E. SMITH

The undersigned women of all parties believe Alfred E. Smith to be a statesman with an unparalleled record of achievement in humanitarian legislation; a gentleman incorruptible in office; a distinguished father of a family unusually accustomed to the formal demands of official life; a great American who will make a great President.

A successful President is a man who is interested in all the people of the United States.

A great President is a man who can induce Congress to fight with him for the rights of the people.

Alfred E. Smith, during four terms as Governor of New York, has always had a legislature of the opposing party to deal with, but has led it to constructive action.

Do YOU UNDERSTAND Governor Smith's position on PROHIBITION?

He says:

1. "I shall to the very limit . . . enforce the 18th amendment and all other provisions of the Federal Constitution and all laws pursuant thereto . . . I believe in reverence for law. Today disregard of the prohibition law is insidiously sapping respect for all law."
2. "I will never advocate or approve any law which directly or indirectly permits the return of the saloon."
3. "I believe in temperance. We have not achieved temperance under the present system. The mothers and fathers of young men and women throughout this land know the anxiety and worry which has been brought to them by their children's use of liquor in a way which was unknown before prohibition."

What Alfred E. Smith Has Done for Women READ HIS RECORD

Factory Workers

Smith secured for his State the most advanced Workmen's Compensation Law in the United States. It provides that women doing the same work as men must receive equal pay.

Widows and Orphans

Smith secured the passage of the Widowed Compensation Law in New York. Under its terms women left penniless are supported in allowances for their minor children are made.

Mothers and Children

Smith secured State title to water power resources in his State in order that all might benefit from the development of water power for electrical energy.

Cost of Living

Smith pioneered the enacting of laws prohibiting liquor in his State. He introduced laws causing radical improvements in the distribution of food in his State.

Office Employees

Smith secured the passage of 40 laws protecting children and stopping the outrageous overworking of women in his State in the canning industry.

School Teachers

Smith has secured an appropriation of $74,643,000 in order to increase the salaries of teachers in New York State.

Office Women

Smith has ended discrimination against women seeking positions in the State Appointments.

Club Women

Alfred E. Smith has sponsored the League of Women Voters.

He considers only the fitness of the person for the place regardless of sex or party or religion.

His Official Family

composed of 8 Republicans, 3 Independents and 14 Democrats.

Two of these are women

And many women are serving on important Cabinet Committees.

HE HAS EARNED WOMAN'S SUPPORT

Kedroff Quartet Gives Concert Tonight to Aid Projects of Y. W. C. A.

Mr. William L. Hodgkins, president of the Young Women's Christian Association of Chicago, is elated over the interest manifested in the appearance of the Kedroff quartet this evening at Orchestra hall.

Proceeds from the concert will be used for the support of three foreign secretaries from the local branch. Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Morse, Mrs. Frank W. Reid, and Mr. and Mrs. Alvin E. Tracy are among those who are having dinners before the affair.

Mr. Tracy Turner Jr. heads the group of Junior league members who have given their services toward presenting the program. They are Miss Dorothy Rumsey, Miss Katherine Rose, Miss Elizabeth McNair, Miss Helen Shimmin, Miss Elizabeth Miss Virginia Skinner, Miss Ruth Masters, Miss Eleanor McNamee, Mrs. Easton McCarthy, and Mrs. Andrew Sanderson.

In spite of the Y. W. C. A. one is building a new residential hotel for members of the association at Dearborn and Oak soaring twelve stories in the shape of a Maltese cross, the edifice is a fitting tribute to the memory of Mr. Cyrus H. Hammond McCormick whose family chose

method of perpetuating the name of one who during her lifetime was a much friend of young women in the business world, as well as an outstanding figure in Chicago's social and political life.

The revised list of boxholders for the 1928-29 season of the Chicago Civic opera—probably the last in the old auditorium—was announced yesterday

by Mrs. Jacob Baur, chairman of the opera box committee of the Friends of Opera.

It was recalled that several years which held boxes, had died

last season.

Additional names to those renewing or subscriptions, as made public in July, are on the revised list.

A number of socially prominent men and women who are interested in the rites of oriental culture and education will be present tonight at the reception which the American friends of China are giving for James Y. C.

on the Palmer house.

Mr. Yen

is on "The Hope of China"

dinner.

Mr. Charles Wesley

of 209 Lake Shore Drive is in charge of reservations.

Mr. Louis E. Burr, chairman of the entertainment committee of the Corporation has issued invitations for a reception for Lawrence Tibbett of the Metropolitan Opera company next evening at the club rooms in the Arts building.

Miss Jean Dawes, daughter of Mr.

and Mrs. Rufus Dawes of Evanston, is giving a luncheon which T. Sherman will be a guest at a luncheon which

Dorothy Mason Bliss will give

at her residence on Ridge ave-

This evening Miss Marion

is giving the spinner dinner.

Mr. Sherman is having his farewell dinner at Glenview Golf and Mr. and Mrs. Dawes will give their dinner for their daughter

tonight, after which they will take their guests to the ball

given at the Evanston Country

by the Infant Welfare society.

Friends of Mrs. Woodbury Ober-

former Jane McClellan, are returning to Chicago to reside.

They

are residing in Baltimore since their marriage some months ago.

Their

plans are to take a house in Forest, where Mrs. Ober's parents, the R. McLeennans, now reside.

The year round.

Mr. and Mrs. George P. Fisher have their house in Lake Forest and their Astor street apartment for the winter months.

Mr. C. Morse Ely of Lake Forest and Ruth Keeley of 223 East square place will return the last week from a month's stay in England and on the continent.

Mr. and Mrs. Ely will occupy the apartment she recently took on North Michigan avenue.

Miss Helen Bourne, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene A. Bourne

of Highland Park, has returned from her months' visit in Europe.

Going to the bereavement in his

Hugh McIntrye Johnston of

Highland Park and Lake

Forest is making arrangements for a memorial service to be held at the residence of Mrs. Rockefeller McCormick,

the first of a series of three

Christmas Is on the Way—the Mail Bag Says So, Plainly

Mr. Gladys Huntington Banana

Christmas is coming! O, yes, it is. You may not think so, with other clothes not yet put away, and blue October skies overhead. But it is.

How do I know? Because a few days ago I received a letter from a mother asking me about an article on Christmas and Christmas saving and giving that appeared last year. So that's how I know Christmas is coming.

Was it last year that the children started saving for Christmas so late that you had to give them money yourself so they would have enough to buy even the simplest and least expensive gifts for their father and their aunt and you and their uncle?

If so, try to do better this year. Let them do their buying with money they can feel is really their own. If they start to save early enough, this can be managed. You may start giving them a small allowance, and they can learn to save some and spend some. A good lesson in self-control this is, and not too hard a one when they have the incentive of saving for a definite and delightful thing like Christmas giving.

With this in mind, you can occasionally find little jobs for them to do for which you can pay them. All presents they receive can be added to their savings. Little by little the fund will grow and when Christmas comes they will feel the dignity and the dignity that come with real giving.

That the gifts are small will not matter. And if they can be encouraged to make things themselves, how that money will stretch!

It may be that instead of not starting out enough last year, your children didn't start out at all to save for gifts for those whom they love. Perhaps you said a few days before Christmas, "Well, here's a dollar or two dollars—to do your Christmas shopping with."

Or perhaps—and I know this to be true in some families—your children didn't even have that much help. Perhaps they just received, received, received. If that was the case, don't, for the love of Christmas and childhood, let it happen this year.

TRIBUNE COOK BOOK

BY JANE EDDINGTON.

Letters for Recipes.

My dear Reader Friends: Please let me know if you have any more about addressed envelopes, with a stamp on them, and some of the things are useful and used for in the cooking world. Let me twist the phrase "letter perfect" and say that this is what I would like to attain, but you must help. Half the people who write to me are quite letter perfect, and I would like to be wholly so.

By addressing an envelope, putting a stamp on it and enclosing it in a request for me to be your friends, leaving me of two responsibilities. First, you ought not to make any mistake in addressing an envelope to yourself, and we may, especially if you forget to put a signature on your letter, or if your signature is not crystal clear. This is a rapid world for some of us, because we have a great deal to turn out.

Some people include a stamp in a letter or two for good measure, with the inference that it pays for the information requested. A second or up third time when I turn to you for help, for we must return them. One is all that is required to pay Uncle Sam, and we think it right you do that.

By a typographical error it was made to appear the other day that I liked dented anonymous letters, of which I wrote a year ago, thanks to her?

L. D. M.

There's nothing "steady" about any arrangement unless the question has been popped and the young man accepted. He's apt to change his mind at any time, and the wise girl is prepared for such an emergency.

DORIS BLAKE ANSWERS

Friends for Six Months.

Dear Miss Blake: When a fellow goes out with a girl for six months does it mean he is going out steadily? I liked dented anonymous letters, of which I wrote a year ago, thanks to her?

L. D. M.

There's nothing "steady" about any arrangement unless the question has been popped and the young man accepted. He's apt to change his mind at any time, and the wise girl is prepared for such an emergency.

It seems to me to get letters saying "please answer by return mail" or immediately. I have a day and hour for dictating letters and this is highly necessary. And it teases me more that these letters are almost surely from people who never read my column and will not see this.

They do not know that I am forever saying "have no untried effects" when entertaining, and so when they ask for elaborate and not a few of them "return mail" I will not take the responsibility for any such imitation of cooking. Such work can never be real cooking.
